

we the curious Sustainability Consultancy

Who we are and what we offer

We The Curious is a science centre in Bristol, welcoming over 300,000 visitors each year. For more than 15 years, we've been reducing our environmental impact - cutting energy use by 30%, establishing sustainable procurement practices and achieving carbon net zero for scopes 1 and 2.

Sustainability work can be complex - we have an experienced team who are keen to support others, wherever they are on their decarbonisation journey, by sharing our knowledge of operational sustainability, decarbonisation and carbon accounting.

You'll find a list of our services overleaf and if you've got any queries, do get in touch.

we the curious Consultancy Packages

Organisational sustainability

- / Responding to a climate emergency – organisational change
- / Setting up a Sustainability Team
- / Material Guidelines
- / Sustainable Procurement training
 - Step by step procurement guide for users
 - Product sourcing
 - End of life
 - Services: considerations for contracts
 - Retail services
- / Catering sustainability
- / Cleaning and waste contracts
- / Business travel policy
- / Climate change adaptation

Carbon reporting

- / Introduction to carbon net zero
- / Carbon reporting template
- / Carbon reporting on scopes 1, 2 and 3
- / Scope 3 – Supplier spend analysis and carbon emissions categorisation
- / Decarbonisation targets setting
 - Includes example target lists and process
- / Decarbonisation initiatives for scopes 1, 2 and 3
- / Carbon offsetting

If there's anything else you need or would like assistance on something which we haven't covered above, please do get in touch and we'll see what we can do.

Cost

Rates are dependant on the number of topics chosen and the number of people (small group, multiple teams, whole organisation, train a trainer)

We're also happy to set up free introductory calls and provide some guidance on a case-by-case basis to support your ongoing sustainability work

Contact Us

Drop us a line on sustainability@wethecurious.org